

Round-up of Localities.

GENTS' clothing cleaned and mended, in first-class style by MRS. J. W. REEL.

Two more silver bricks brought down from Banner a few days ago.

WM. ABBOTT arrived here yesterday from Upper Squaw Creek.

WEISER is infested with tramps, bums, thieves, dead beats and boisterous characters.

SAM BRAMBO arrived here Monday evening from Sheep Mountain, and proceeded on to Boise Tuesday.

THE wages of the white men at work on the O. R. & N. Co's. line this side of Baker City are $1.50 per day and the Chinamen's wages are 80 cts.

CONSIDERABLE rain fell here Wednesday night and yesterday, and snow fell in the mountains. The high points are white, and have a very wintry appearance.

PETER LeBON hied himself to the mountains the other day and as soon as the game law was out he tumbled a deer—a 166 pound doe—which he brought in on Tuesday.

THE Bellevue Chronicle says a rich ledge has been opened up in a street of that town. Messrs. Brim and Mellick were the discoverers. The ore assays $96 in silver and is 54 per cent. lead.

C. J. WALSH, the young man nominated for County Attorney on the Democratic ticket, called on us yesterday. He is a genial young fellow, and intelligent, and we have been informed is a shrewd lawyer.

THERE are but eight miles of grading to be done on the railroad line between Baker and Huntington. Work is carried on day and night. At night an electric light illuminates the scene of activities. Two thousand Chinamen are employed as graders.

HON. PHIL CLEARY, in a letter to the Walla Walla Statesman, says that after being buried for untold ages the quartz interests of Idaho county are looming up in a manner that will some day astonish the world in the millions of gold and silver that will be taken from the mines. He and Mike Deasy are still mining in Gold Lake, at Florence, and doing well.

A PANTHER or cougar was killed in Salubria valley the other day. Its length was 8 feet 2 inches, and weight 200 pounds. The animal carried off a hog one night, weighing 150 pounds. A trap was set for the swine destroyer and he walked off with it. Men followed him, with dogs, ran onto him in a brush thicket, and with a rifle put an end to his existence.

THE body of Lee Dougherty was found last Monday on a sand bar in Payette river about a mile above Miner's bridge, at Horseshoe Bend. The body was considerably decayed. The remains were taken to Placerville, where the funeral took place on Tuesday. The last seen of Dougherty was at Jerusalem, about two weeks ago. He had delirium tremens. His clothing were found on the bank of the river, at Jerusalem.

A BANNER man rode one of Len White's horses down the other day, and was followed by Deputy Sheriff Jas. Irwin, Mr. White and Jas. Emerson and arrested at this place. He was taken back, and will probably have an examination before Justice Goodlife. The man had been at work for Mr. White and said he took the horse for his pay, but not with the consent of White. The man was very drunk, and was in a state bordering on delirium tremens when he took the horse.

F. G. FARRIS, an old-timer of this place, dropped into this office yesterday morning, and we hardly knew him—hadn't seen him for several years—and when we last saw him he looked as if he was about ready to climb the golden stairs—had been sick for a number of years, and was physically thin. Now he is hale and hearty. He was sick for nine years, and regained his health only about eighteen months ago. Mr. Farris went up to Walker's diggings, near Banner the other day, to locate a ledge he discovered years ago. He stopped at the Golconda mine on his way in. The boys struck the ledge the other day in their new shaft and at the depth of twenty-five feet. The ledge surpasses their expectations, both in the size of the vein and richness of the ore. They ran four feet into the ledge and haven't yet reached the other side. Four feet is pretty good. The vein is almost perpendicular. On the surface it had but a very slight dip. They are now satisfied they have a genuine ledge—a true fissure.

MARSHAL ELI walked from Banner to this place—thirty miles—in seven hours, last Monday. Left there at 8 A. M. and arrived here at 3 P. M. Pretty quick time for a man sixty years of age. He was not walking against time, but just jogged along at his natural gate. Although old in years, Marshal is as supple, active and full of life and fun as a young man of twenty—in fact is old only when the stretch of time that has passed him by since he made his entrance on the stage of life is considered. Marshal can dance a jig or hornpipe livelier, turn a back or forward somersault easier and turn a handspring with more agility than any other man in these parts, and can throw any man of his weight in Boise county in a fair and square wrestle for fun or money.

ALL the nimrods who have been out hunting this season report a great scarcity of grouse. This species of game, although not thinned out by hunters, has been gradually decreasing in numbers in these parts the past five or six years. But very few young grouse are seen. The weather early in the springtime—during the incubation periods—has been unusually cold during the past few years, which probably accounts for the decrease.

DR. M. PEPPERLE will visit this place on the 10th or 12th of this month on his way to Garden Valley. He will have with him the necessary implements for tuning and repairing pianos. For tuning, $5; repairing the action and softening hammers, $3 extra. All who wish work in that line are requested to leave word at the Luna House.

OUR Sheep Mountain correspondent asks the question, "In what county is Sheep Mountain?" We give it up. But from what we have learned from parties from Sheep Mountain we are a little inclined to the belief that that district is in Boise county. The line ought to be surveyed, and probably will be, next season.

J. A. RICHARDSON, Surveyor, has been at Banner, making a survey of the Banner, Crown Point and Wolverine mines, for the Elmira company, and also surveyed the mill sites. The company has made application for patents for the mines mentioned, and for the mill sites.

JOHN MONROE came down yesterday from Golconda. He gives the same account of the recent strike in the Golconda as that given by Mr. Farris.

FRODSHAM, a Hailey voter, was born in Idaho, and has never been out of the Territory, says the Inter-Idaho.

THE WORLD received a very pleasant call the other day from J. A. Richardson, Surveyor.

THE U. S. Grand Jury at Prescott, Arizona, recently found seven indictments for polygamy.

O. A. DUQUETTE was elected school trustee for this district last Monday. There was no opposition, and consequently not many votes were polled.

THE Delegates to the Territorial Convention from this county will vote for Hon. Jas. H. Hawley for Delegate in Congress.

SEE card of J. A. Richardson, Surveyor, of Boise City. Mr. Richardson thoroughly understands his business—has the reputation of being a first-class surveyor.

BILL TINCHER says that other proxy was too much for him, and when they told him his proxy was too previous—that the other one revoked it—Bill said "Zip! bang!" simply that and nothing more, and bade the convention good bye.

THE Leader says Weiser valley will soon become one of the greatest fruit-producing sections in the west. V. D. Hannah has seven varieties of grapes, and all ripened in August. The vines are two years old. Next year he expects to have between three and four tons. They equal the California grapes in flavor.

THE Weiser Leader learns that the engineers having in charge the construction of the Snake river railroad bridge at fourth crossing made a blunder of six feet in building one of the piers. Some say that the company will send to the foundry and have new spans cast to suit the length, while others say that new piers will be built, in which case it will delay the completion of the bridge about a month.

JAS. White and a young man named Fred. Gove arrived here last Tuesday from Atlanta. They report that camp rather lively. Three mills were running when they left. The Tehama mine is turning out handsomely and the owners are highly elated. It is yielding beyond the expectations of every body over there. Another level is opened in the Atlanta mine, making the depth at which this mine is now being worked—500 feet. The population of Atlanta is about three hundred.

A MAN named Doyle, employed by the railroad company at the Weiser depot, entered Pat Hickey's saloon, and commenced a quarrel, says the Leader, and Pat tried to stop him. Doyle then went out and procured his brass or steel knuckles, and with the assistance of another party, succeeded in beating and chewing Pat's head and face in a terrible manner. After that Doyle occupied his time by breaking windows and smashing up other property. He was arrested, but through some cause no complaint was filed, and Doyle skipped.

SHEEP MOUNTAIN.—Our Sheep Mountain correspondent, "J. D.," writes as follows, under date of Aug. 26th. The letter was received last Monday evening, but after we had "gone to press:" "Sam Brambough is just about leaving for the Basin—is packing and cinching his wild steed of the mountains, and I hastily scribble you a few lines. Having made you a promise to write at every opportunity, I will try to keep my word good. The Mountain King is looking better than ever. It is no longer a prospect—is now entitled to the dignity of a mine. Sixteen tons have been shipped already. Kossuth and Johnson's trains will both be in the last of this week, and will again load with Mountain King ore. Packing will continue from this mine as long as the weather will permit. Parties are expected in here shortly to look at the mine with a view to purchase. Rhodes will make another shipment this fall. What county are we in,

Mr. Editor? Custer is reaping all the harvest, but Hon. Geo. Baldwin says we are in Boise. Hope he is right, and trust the coming Legislature will establish the line. Sheep Mountain will be a great mineral country, and if we belong to Boise, let Boise county look after us before we get so rich that Custer county will want to keep us any way." J. D.

The following interesting statistics bear out the theory that cholera loses its intensity with every fresh appearance of it: In 1832 it killed in Paris 20,000 victims in a population of 800,000; in 1849, 12,000 in a population of 1,200,000, and in 1865, 6,000 in 2,000,000. At Marseilles there were 2,500 victims in 1835, in a population of 145,000, and only 2,000 in 1865, in a population of 300,000.

The following is one of the rules issued by the Northern Pacific railroad for the government of the employees: "Persons in the employ of the company having control of men, must never, under any circumstances, curse them; boisterous, profane or vulgar language is strictly forbidden. Civil, gentlemanly deportment is required of all persons employed by the company in their intercourse with passengers, with the public and with each other.

"HEALTH and Home," an excellent eight-page, forty-column monthly paper, will be sent gratuitously, one year, to all our delinquent subscribers who pay up their indebtedness, and also to those who pay for the WORLD one year in advance. The young man from the country and his girl were drifting slowly into an ice-cream saloon, when the following met his eye: "Vanilla, chocolate, lemon and strawberry ice-cream, $1.50 per gal." He turned and fled.
